STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Wellington Wideman House Lot 28, Concession 10 11201 Reesor Road c.1910

The Wellington Wideman House is recommended for designation under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act as a property of cultural heritage value or interest, as described in the following Statement of Significance.

Description of Property

The Wellington Wideman House is a two and a half storey red brick dwelling located on the east side of Reesor Road, approximately half way between Elgin Mills Road East and Nineteenth Avenue. The house faces south, and due to its setback, cannot be seen from the road.

Design or Physical Value

The Wellington Wideman House is a good example of an American Foursquare style house in red pressed brick. Its design and detailing are typical of the simplified character of Markham's post-Victorian rural houses built in the early years of the 20th century. The wrap-around veranda, supported on simple Tuscan columns resting on brick pedestals, is a significant decorative feature.

Historical or Associative Value

The Wellington Wideman House has historical value for its association with Wellington Wideman, a member of a prominent Pennsylvania-German family. Wellington Wideman, a farmer, was a great-grandson of the Reverend Henry Wideman, who came to Markham from Pennsylvania in 1803. Henry Wideman was one of the first ordained Mennonite ministers in Upper Canada.

Contextual Value

The house at 11201 Reesor Road remains in a rural setting, and is a significant remnant of the agricultural community surrounding the historic crossroads hamlet of Mongolia, originally known as California Corners.

Significant Architectural Attributes

Exterior character-defining attributes that embody the cultural heritage value of the Wellington Wideman House include:

- Overall form of the building, including its two and a half storey height, cubic plan, and the volume of the structure;
- Red pressed brick wall construction with red brick arches over door and window openings;
- Truncated hipped roof with hipped roofed dormers, wide overhang, and wood soffits;
- Red brick chimney with corbelled cap;
- Hipped roofed wrap-around veranda supported on wood Tuscan columns resting on red brick pedestals, and the simple wood railing that formerly existed;
- Original door and window openings with brick arches and projecting window sills, with the windows presumed to be wood, one over one sash windows, based on the style of the house and the date of construction.
